Sports Injury Claims Example - National Programmes and Events

Below is a basic example of the benefits that can be claimed under the policy and the process in order to claim.

Jack was training in National Gold Squad when tackled by an opposing player, suffering an injury to his left knee. An ambulance was called and he was transported to the local hospital where he was given something for his pain and sent home. After being in extreme discomfort that night he visited his local GP the next morning who gave him some pain relief, a certificate stating he was not fit to work for one week and referred him to a specialist orthopaedic surgeon. Jack visited the specialist the next week who ordered an x-ray which revealed that a full knee re-construction was needed. As Jack was unable to work due to his injury he arranged for the surgery to be performed the following Thursday. The specialist provided an unfit for work certificate for an additional four weeks. His operation was successful and he started on a course of physiotherapy and was able to return to work 12 weeks after the injury. Jack was earning an average weekly wage of $250 per week. For a period of eight weeks following his injury he hired crutches from the local chemist.

Jack completed a 'Sports Injury Claim Form' two days after his injury, had his employer complete the employers sections, his Program / Event Manager complete the club's section, and sent the claim form off to SLE who recorded the claim. At the time of visiting the specialist Jack had the 'Attending Physicians' section completed by him and this was sent off again to SLE together with 'unfit for work' certificates. Following payment of the medical expenses Jack sent the receipts and additional 'unfit for work' certificates to SLE.

The claim was settled by the Insurer as follows:

When you register to play with a Rugby Union Club, you are reminded that Rugby Union is a body contact sport. Potential, notwithstanding all safety guards, exists for a player to sustain injury. Players must therefore prepare themselves for the game by having a commitment to training and a high level of fitness. As a measure of your club and your union's support to players and officials, the Rugby AU has arranged insurance cover as set out in this document and for your benefit and risk protection.

In addition to these policies all players and officials are encouraged to take out private health insurance, life insurance and 'top up' cover over and above that is outlined above to ensure individual needs and circumstances are met.
